Put the team back in teamwork

Evernote Business | Microsoft Teams Integration

Your team’s best work doesn’t live in just one place. Connect your Microsoft Teams chat to Evernote business content to share relevant info, ideas, and work streams.

TOP BENEFITS

Increased teamwork

Bring your Evernote Business content into Teams and go beyond standard communication to easily share your ideas.

Better communication

Get the full context on a project by reading and sharing Evernote business content while simultaneously chatting in Microsoft Teams.
Since implementing Evernote Business, the time it takes my team to carry out a project from start to finish has been cut in half.

YOUR 4-STEP GUIDE

1. Communicate
Share your Evernote Business notes in a Teams channel to easily turn any conversation into a working session.

2. Share information
Search and share anything including meeting minutes, handwritten notes, whiteboard images, offline documents, and more with one click.

3. Collaborate
Turn conversations into a productive brainstorm by pinning an Evernote Business note the team can edit and view.

4. Plugin to email
Create and organize new Evernote Business notes from emails and attachments in one click with the Microsoft Outlook plugin.

Use this integration:

For improved organization
Catalog data, research, conversations, and meeting notes for quick retrieval.

As a time-saver
Search and share from within a Teams chat without switching between apps. Changes to notes are synced so chats are always up to date.

For cross-functional alignment
Give context to notes such as objectives, deliverables, or metrics to build shared understanding and alignment across teams.

To promote better conversations
Share private and public Evernote Business notes within a channel or conversation, so everyone can focus on the tasks that matter most.
